

HPE EDUCATION LEARNING CREDITS

- Are you implementing new products or technologies?
- How will you prepare your team for digital transformation?
- Do your people have the right skills and knowledge to drive better business outcomes and deliver a higher return on technology investment?
- Do you have new hires in your IT department that need to quickly come up to speed?
- How will you mitigate the risk of technology transition and minimize disruption to operations?

HPE EDUCATION LEARNING CREDITS SUPPORT DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION

To meet the challenges of today's accelerating digital transformation, you need a highly skilled workforce. To acquire the right skills and keep pace with rapid technology change, your team needs an agile and flexible skills development program that provides just-in-time training.

With HPE Education Learning Credits, you prefund training by purchasing credits ahead of time and redeem the credits as needed to meet training requirements. By prefunding training, you stretch training budgets, align with the budget cycle, streamline purchasing, simplify registration, and improve training management. But most importantly—your staff gets the expertise and skills they need to address the demands of the current IT landscape.

HPE Education Learning Credits can be redeemed for any HPE Education Services offering. Our learning-as-a-service offering includes training and services for a wide array of HPE solutions, industry technologies, and business skills. To meet individual and organizational learning preferences, we offer multiple ways to

learn including, instructor-led training, virtual instructor-led training, eLearning, and continuous learning through HPE Digital Learner subscriptions (Bronze, Silver, Gold, and SMB Edition).
